- (a) created by a Staff Member in the course of, or pursuant to, or under the terms of, or incidental to, the Staff Member’s employment with the University. This includes but is not limited to all Intellectual Property created by a Staff Member by reason of the Staff Member’s:
 - (i) use of the University’s Resources; or

 - (ii) with the use of Intellectual Property owned by the University;
 - (iii) where the Intellectual Property is a component of Intellectual Property generated by a team of which the Affiliate is a member and other members are Staff Members; or

- (iv) where the Intellectual Property has been generated as a result of any funding provided by or obtained by the University.

Assignment of Scholarly Works

- (2) The University is willing to forgo copyright ownership in a Creator's Scholarly Work (except where the Scholarly Work has been Specifically Commissioned by the University) on the condition that the Creator provides a perpetual, irrevocable, worldwide, royalty-free, non-exclusive licence in favour of the University to allow the University to use that work for teaching and research purposes and to reproduce and communicate that work in any format for teaching and research purposes.
- (3) If the Scholarly Work relates to an unregistered design, unregistered plant variety or an Invention in respect of which a patent has not already been granted, the Staff Member or Affiliate must not publish or otherwise disclose the Scholarly Work to any third party without the written authorisation of the University's Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research).

Teaching Materials

- (4) Where the University owns the Intellectual Property in Teaching Materials in accordance with Section 1(1) above, the Staff Member or Affiliate who created the Teaching Materials shall have, by virtue of this sub-section, a non-exclusive, royalty-free, worldwide, non-transferable licence to use the Teaching Materials for teaching and research purposes, both during and after the term of the Staff Member's employment or Affiliate's affiliation with the University.

 - (e) is undertaken with the permission of the Staff Member's Line Manager.

- (8) Where the position is unclear, Staff Members are required to seek clarification in writing from the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research) to avoid possible disputes.

2. Ownership of Intellectual Property Created by Students

- (1) Subject to this Section 2, Intellectual Property created by a Student during the course of his or her studies at the University is owned by that Student.

If a Student prefers not to sign such an agreement, or does not respond to a request to do so, then the University may decline to permit the Student to participate in that project and the University will use its best endeavours to provide the Student with the option of a different research topic.

Sharing Commercial Benefits

- (6) Students who assign their Intellectual Property rights to the University in accordance with Section 2 are entitled to a share in the proceeds of any Commercial Exploitation of that Intellectual Property as provided in Section 7.

Student Research at other Institutions

These arrangements might include obtaining a disclaimer from the institution of any interest in the research, or negotiating a sharing of rights to any Intellectual Property arising from the research.

3. Securing and Protecting Intellectual Property

5. Non-Disclosure

- (1) The Creators of the Intellectual Property disclosed under Section 4 must not otherwise disclose or use that Intellectual Property without the written authorisation of the University's Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research) if:
 - (a) the Intellectual Property comprises an Invention, an unregistered design, an unregistered plant variety or a Copyright Work that relates in whole or in part to an Invention, design or plant variety; or
 - (b) the disclosure or use is likely to prejudice the University's ability to protect, prosecute, enforce or Commercially Exploit the Intellectual Property or its rights in the Intellectual Property.
- (2) The Creator must confer with ORI regarding timing of any proposed publications of the Intellectual Property disclosed in the Invention Disclosure Form to ensure that publication and Intellectual Property protection may be achieved without either hindering the other.

6. Assessment and Evaluation of Intellectual Property

- (1) Subject to full details having been provided in the Invention Disclosure Form, on receipt of an Invention Disclosure Form which relates to Intellectual Property disclosed under Section 4, ORI will decide within a period of three months of receiving the Invention Disclosure Form whether or not it wishes to proceed with the protection, development or Commercial Exploitation of the Intellectual Property.
- (2) Where it is not practicable to reach a decision within three months, the University will advise the Creator of the reasons why it has been unable to reach a decision and, after consultation with the Creator, may specify a further period of not more than three months within which it expects to reach a decision. Any further period of extension beyond the three months is only available by agreement between the University and the Creator.

If the University Decides Not to Proceed

- (3) If the University decides it does not wish to protect, develop or Commercially Exploit the reported Intellectual Property which it has assessed under paragraphs (1) and (2) of this Section 6, the University must notify the Creator of this decision. Upon such notification the Creator shall no longer have an obligation of non-disclosure under Section 5. The Creator may request the University to assign the Intellectual Property to him or her so that the Creator can protect, develop or Commercially Exploit the reported Intellectual Property in any manner the Creator chooses at the Creator's own cost, subject to the interests of any third parties.
- (4) Nothing in Section 6(3) prejudices any right of the University to negotiate conditions to the assignment to:
 - (a) claim a share in any revenue received by the Creator from the Commercial Exploitation of the Intellectual Property; or

- (b) retain a non-exclusive right to use the Intellectual Property for education and research purposes.
- (5) In the case of multiple Creators, any assignment of Intellectual Property in accordance with Section 6(3) will be to all Creators without determination of ownership or proportion of contribution.
- (6) The University reserves the right not to assign Intellectual Property to the Creators under Section 6(3).

If the University Decides to Proceed

- (7) If the University decides to protect, develop or Commercially Exploit the reported Intellectual Property which it has assessed under paragraphs (1) and (2) of this Section 6, the University must notify the Creators of this decision and the Creators will be requested to complete a formal assignment of their interests in the Intellectual Property to the University in a contract that specifies the rights that will accrue to the Creators.
- (8) Without limiting the University's discretion in the Commercial Exploitation of Intellectual Property, the University may consult with the Creators of the Intellectual Property before determining the appropriate pathway for Commercial Exploitation. The pathway may include the filing of patent applications, the identification of possible licensees, the formation of a limited liability company or some other vehicle to exploit the Intellectual Property.
- (9) The Creators must provide the University with all reasonable assistance in the exploitation of the Intellectual Property including the assessment, management, protection and Commercial Exploitation of Intellectual Property. - (2) Section 7(1) does not apply in respect of any proceeds derived from the Commercial Exploitation of Teaching Materials developed for the purpose of delivering a degree, diploma, course or unit of study regardless of where, by whom and what mode the degree, diploma, course or unit of study is delivered.
- (3) The discretion to vary distribution of the Net Revenue from the general rule in Section 7(1) will be exercised by the Vice-Chancellor on advice from the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research).

- (4) Distribution of Net Revenue will be made to the Creators regardless of whether they remain employed or engaged by, or enrolled with, the University.

For the avoidance of doubt, benefits may take the form of revenue, equity or shares, a right to convert to equity or shares or other non-cash benefits, dependent upon the path of Commercial Exploitation.

Multiple Creators

- (6) Net Revenue will be shared between the Creators involved according to the proportionate contribution made by them to the Intellectual Property. Such proportions are as agreed by the Creators. If there is any dispute between the Creators and agreement cannot be reached, the provisions of Section 12 Dispute Resolution apply.
- (7) In the case where there are several Creators who are employed by or study under different Schools or Centres, distribution to relevant Schools or Centres will be made in the same proportions as apply to Creators.

9. Intellectual Property From Previous Employment

Where a Staff Member or Affiliate brings Intellectual Property to the University generated in the course of previous employment, and in respect of which that previous employer or the Staff Member or Affiliate has a claim of ownership, and where that claim of ownership could reasonably be expected to impact upon or limit the Staff Member or Affiliate's ability to perform research or related tasks under his or her contract with the University, then this must be disclosed to ORI so all issues of ownership are clarified and settled before the Staff Member or Affiliate uses that Intellectual Property in the course of his or her work at the University.

10. Indigenous Works

Where the creation of the University Intellectual Property involves the traditional interests or property of Indigenous peoples and/or the use of traditional knowledge, the University will take all reasonable steps to consult with the relevant groups within the University, including relevant Indigenous Australian staff, to ensure that any decisions taken on the protection, development and Commercial Exploitation of that Intellectual Property conforms with the relevant Indigenous protocols and ethical guidelines.
